Gaspar Marquez was born in Mexico, where he soon developed an addiction for photography and the arts, influenced principally by Surrealism and Cubism. As a child he would take his mother's camera and go shoot just for fun without her consent. Later, he moved to San Francisco, CA to study photography and wandered throughout North America.

Marquez is currently represented by Leigh Wen Fine Art and resides in Brooklyn, NY. His works have been widely exhibited and published in the United States, Mexico, South Africa and Germany.

In the past year, Marquez has spent his time with fashion photographers, chronicling fashion runways, and exhibiting his work in Long Island City, Queens, Brooklyn and Manhattan. His photography has also been published in Mexico and the US.
